HOW TO NUMBER YOUR TAGS

Each of your horses has a separate number that begins with YOUR entrant number. First make a list of all the horses that you plan to show. Assign each horse a number, starting with XXX- 001. (The XXX is your EMCAT number.) Continue numbering in sequence, XXX-002, XXX-003, XXX-004, etc. all the way up to xxx-999 (or higher) if you want to have a master list for yourself with all your horses on it. You can go as far as you need or wish to go. NOTE: Be sure that you write the numbers with the dash following your entrant number, then the digits from 001 through 999 (or higher) on the tag.

You will need to keep a copy of your list for your records and you will give a copy to the person at the show who is doing the results.

Note: You do not have to keep the same list of horses from one show to another, but many people do. Some people make a new list with new numbers for each show. It's your choice. Some people keep one list going and just bring it with them to each show. It doesn't matter if all the horses on the list are not at the show or do not place at the show. It is OK if some numbers are missing – just make sure that all the horses you brought with you to the show are on the list. Don't forget to add any new ones you might buy at the show and show there. Be sure to add them to the list you give to the Show Holder, too.

Once you have the list made, you are ready to make your tags. Tags may be purchased at most office supply stores and at Wal-Mart in the office supply section. These are small white or colored tags that are approximately an inch in length with a string attached to them. The string is looped around one of the horse's legs and serves as a means to identify your horse. On the front side of the tag, you write your horse's number, breed, and gender, as shown below (change the 999 to your own entrant number). You may also include the name of your horse if you wish. On the back of the tag, you can write your name and the horse's name so that if the tag falls off, it can be identified and returned to you. It is a good idea to have extra blank tags at the show so that you can make tags for any horses you buy at the show or replace any that get lost.

SAMPLE HORSE LIST Below I have shown an example of what a list might look like. Always remember to put your name and address at the top of each page of your list so that if the pages get separated, they are easy to identify. You absolutely MUST turn in this horse list to the show organizer if you want your horses to be able to keep their NAN cards.

NAMING HORSES It is customary for people to give each model its own name rather than using the name that the company gave the model. However, if you like the name the company used, then add something to it to make it unique, such as your stable name or translate the name into a different language. For example, Black Beauty in Spanish would be Belleza Negra, and in French it would be Beauté Noire. If you wish, you could use your stable name in front of the name. For example, if your stable was Blue Ridge Farm, you could name the horse Blue Ridge Black Beauty. You can also use your stable initials, such as BRF Black Beauty.
